Understanding this transcript

Credit points and levels

The University uses a credit point system in which 120 points is equivalent to a full-time academic year (1200 hours of study) compatible with the Credit Accumulation and Transfer Schemes (CATS) in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, and with the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF) in Scotland. Undergraduate credit is awarded at one of three levels (1, 2 and 3). Non-undergraduate credit is designated level X.

Total number of points

The total figure shows all the credit points that have been counted towards this qualification, including any credit transfer, subordinate award, and collaborative courses.

Method of teaching

The courses recorded on this transcript are taught by an integrated process involving material specifically prepared for the course in written, audio and visual media, regular assignments, set books, and in most cases voluntary attendance at local tutorial sessions. On some courses, students are required to attend a residential school.

Student performance

Student performance is measured in a series of continuous assessment assignments that are either tutor-marked or computer-marked to standards set down by the Examination and Assessment Board for the course, and in an examinable component, which is usually a three-hour, unseen, written examination, but might consist of a project or dissertation. The final course result depends on the performance in each component and on the overall weighted average. The Examination and Assessment Board for each course includes at least one external examiner whose role includes helping to ensure comparability of academic standards with other degree-awarding bodies in the UK.
